Finding Jesus at Home

Two friends went on retreat together. The retreat-master asked everybody to spend an hour alone and write briefly about how they had met God in their lives. One of the friends spent his hour in utter frustration and rage. Eventually he took pen in hand and savagely wrote down one line: 'Jesus, where the f are you?' On the way into their next meeting with the retreat-master he met his friend and showed him what he had written. His friend smiled, took a piece of paper from his pocket and handed it to him. He had written only one line as well: 'I am right here beside you and within you.' God is full of jokes!

We are like the people of Nazareth. We don't expect God to be walking the streets of our home town. We'd much prefer if he kept his distance where we can admire him rather than follow him.
