Giving Till it Helps

A very successful businessman was once asked to make a substantial donation to an urgent charity appeal. The businessman listened to the case presented and then said, 'I can understand why you approached me. Yes, I do have a lot of money, and yours is an important cause. But are you aware that I have a lot of calls upon my money? Did you know, for instance, that my mother needs 24 hour nursing care?' No, they didn't know that. 'Did you know that my sister is struggling to raise a family of eight on her own?' No, they didn't know that either. 'Did you know that I have one son in a drug rehab clinic and another doing voluntary work overseas?' No, they had no idea that there were so many demands on him. 'Well,' said the businessman triumphantly, 'if I don't give them a cent, what makes you think I'll give something to you?'

Pope Francis says we should give 'till it hurts'. Many don't even give 'till it helps'.
